About Kat

With over a decade of experience in the financial advice industry, I've had the privilege of witnessing my clients achieve a more financially secure future.

I'm dedicated to getting to know my clients, working with them to set goals, and guiding them towards a secure future with the right advice for their unique needs and objectives.

I'm especially passionate about creating retirement strategies for my clients that give them peace of mind, financial freedom and security.

Away from work, you can find me horse riding, curled up on the couch with a good book, or planning my next overseas adventure.
